

Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 27 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Warm and dry today, with sunny spells. Cloudy on Friday.

Today:

Any early fog patches soon clear to leave a mostly dry day with sunny spells and patchy fair-weather cloud. Coastal areas will be sunniest and there's a slight chance of the odd afternoon shower. Feeling warm. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:

Fair-weather cloud clears during the evening, but late sunshine turns hazy as cloud moves in from the west. Staying mostly dry overnight, with widespread cloud cover. Milder than Wednesday night. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Friday:

Cloudy on Friday with outbreaks of rain possible, more likely in the north though their extent is uncertain. Temperatures down slightly. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:

Variable cloud, some sunny spells and a few showers on Saturday. Mostly dry with sunny spells on Sunday and Dry on Bank Holiday Monday. Warmer than of late.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.